The Valley's Voice for Progressives

- Promoting human and civil rights as well as environmental justice.
- Endorsing and supporting candidates who embrace progressive values.
- Educating and mobilizing voters to elect progressive candidates.

The purpose of the CVPPAC is to promote the human and civil rights of all Central Valley residents. This is to be accomplished through education, organizing, electoral campaigns, and community-led action. The CVPPAC will advocate for these issues and values, including lobbying those in official positions.

The CVPPAC will also recruit, endorse, and support candidates for office who are committed to the core values of Central Valley residents as expressed by the CVPPAC. These core values include, but are not limited to, climate, class, gender, immigrant, and racial justice.

Among our primary political concerns are a living wage for all workers, a livable climate, a sustainable environment, public safety, gun control, affordable housing, reliable climate-smart public transportation (including bike paths), police accountability, improved public education, reproductive justice, and healthcare for all.

The CVPPAC is dedicated to mobilizing Central Valley residents in the election and appointment of governmental officials by sponsoring "Get Out the Vote" campaigns, community building, and organizing programs.
