

Fresno Center for Nonviolence 2022

July 2022

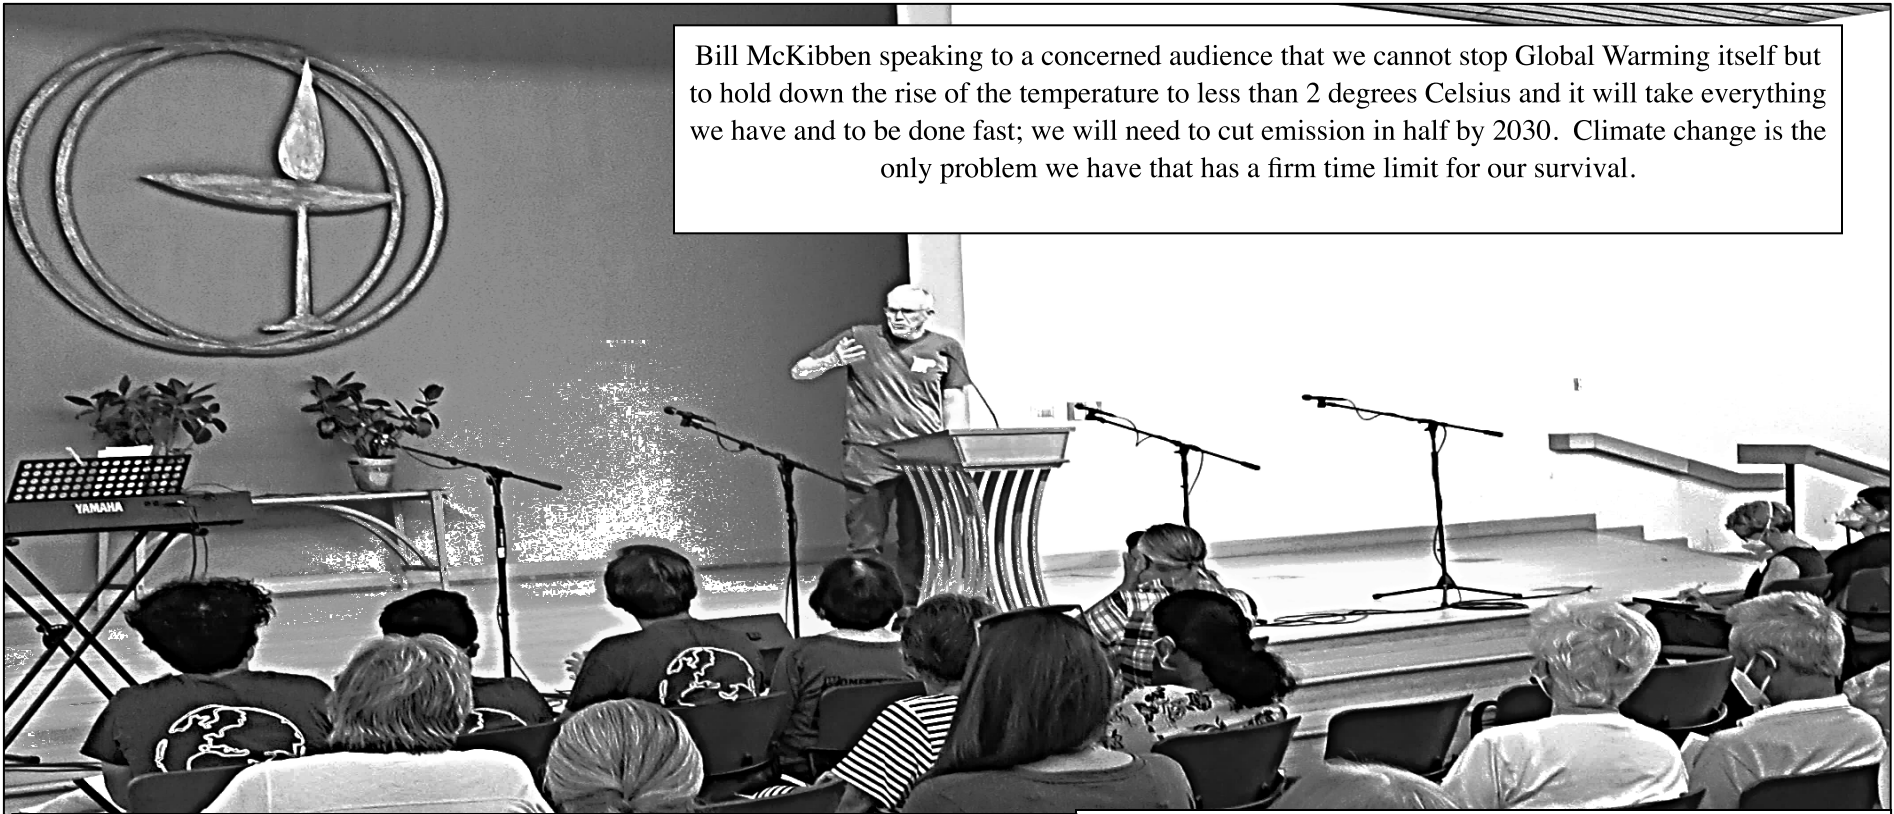

This month we celebrate the 248th year of the United States. How many years has this country been without war? Not many. People like Native Americans, African Americans, Mexicans or Latin Countries, Asian Americans can claim that this war is not over. Beyond the borderline, we have our “100-year War” aka the Cold War. We have been at war with just about everyone except the Climate Catastrophe. A war we will never win by refusing to acknowledge; it’s our lives in trouble.

The Fresno Center for Nonviolence celebrated its 30th Anniversary on Saturday, June 11 at the Unitarian Universalist Church in Fresno. Our special guest speaker was climate activist Bill McKibben, founder of 350.org, Gandhi awardee, and author of over twenty books, to include his most recent title The Flag, the Cross, and the Station Wagon. After a rousing musical introduction by Fresno’s own Raging Grannies, the Center presented Way of Peace Awards to Ann Carruthers of WILPF, Ron Martin of “Fresnans Against Fracking”, and Way of Peace Youth Awards to Pratham Hombal, Andrew Wong and Adam Staley. Our Organizational Award went to Citizens' Climate Lobby of Fresno.

Bill McKibben speaking to a concerned audience that we cannot stop Global Warming itself but to hold down the rise of the temperature to less than 2 degrees Celsius and it will take everything we have and to be done fast; we will need to cut emission in half by 2030. Climate change is the only problem we have that has a firm time limit for our survival.
