ACT NOW! THIS ELECTION IS A CLIMATE ELECTION

As you all know, November 5th is Election Day and early voting is underway. We have less than a week left to make a difference in this Presidential election. It's critical to get out the vote — see the opportunity below.

We can't go back. To protect our environment and the climate successes that our Sierra Club and climate community have worked so hard to accomplish, we must do everything we can to elect climate champions. With two of the worst storms in memory hitting the Southeast in rapid succession, this election is a climate election — and Kamala Harris and Tim Walz are a proud climate ticket.

- Kamala Harris is a lifelong environmental, conservation, and climate justice champion
 - As San Francisco District Attorney, she established the first Environmental Justice unit in the country.
 - As California Attorney General, she prosecuted oil companies and polluters.
 - As Vice President, she helped champion the 30x30 conservation initiative.
 - And she cast the tie breaking vote on the Inflation Reduction Act, the largest investment in clean energy and climate in history.
- In contrast, Donald Trump denies the existence of climate change. He has said that he will leave the Paris Accords once again and increase oil and gas drilling everywhere — in return for the deluge of donations he has received from Big Oil. Also, Project 2025, the blueprint for a second Trump term, has called for the elimination of the Hurricane Forecast Center and the National Weather Service.

As a Climate Voter who wants to help in the final sprint to win this election, there are opportunities for you to help elect Harris-Waltz and the Sierra Club endorsed candidates up and down the ballot. Check out the best ways to help if you are still trying to figure out how to “do something” to make a difference, and take action! See the opportunity below. What you do makes a difference. It really does!
